

The North Jersey Astronomical Group (NJAG) consists of stargazers interested in all aspects of the night sky. The NJAG is a member of the United Astronomy Clubs of New Jersey (UACNJ) and the International Dark Sky Association (IDA).

The Group sponsors activities for the public, such as telescope sessions and a monthly lecture series in the spring and fall. Stargazing at MSU is cosponsored by Montclair State University's Department of Mathematical Sciences. Since 1981, tens of thousands of people have looked through our telescopes!

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

As a member of the NJAG:

- Get a $10 discount on subscriptions to Sky & Telescope or Astronomy magazines (S&T subscribers also get a 10% discount on all books, maps and products at Sky Publishing)
- Borrow materials from the Group's library
- Participate in field trips to local planetariums, science centers and star parties
- Join our email list for the latest club and astronomy news

TELESCOPE NIGHTS

The NJAG sponsors stargazing session fall and spring, as well as other stargazing events throughout the year as opportunity and weather permit. There are also possibilities to stargaze under darker skies at our observatory at Jenny Jump State Forest. As a member you will get advance notice on all of our events.

MEETINGS

The Group's business meetings are held monthly. Visit the website for location and time. These meetings are attended by NJAG members and are open to the public and prospective members. Each meeting features light refreshments and a short lecture/slide presentation by an amateur or professional astronomer.

COMMUNICATE

As a NJAG member you will be able to communicate with other amateur astronomers through the club's email list and Facebook page. You will have access to the latest club and astronomy news
